

With all sincerity, there is nothing more important to us than keeping everyone in our establishment safe, whether guest or team member. So, when you come through our doors, your safety will be our main concern, you can expect the same warm hospitality. However, you may see a bit more signage and guidance on what to do and not do. You may notice a few adjustments to our service which might feel a little odd at first, but all of which is necessary. We have changed our serving times, the concept has change slightly and all ordering is done through table service. There is currently no bar service. We also do understand that at this time, individuals' concerns are many and varied. We've tried to anticipate things but if you have any specific questions or requests, we'll try our best to accommodate you.

As part of our measures to keep everyone safe during the time of coronavirus a maximum of 6 guests from 2 households can book at any time of day, but this will be limited for obvious reasons.

Walk-ins will always be welcome and you will be asked to wait by the door until seated, but booking is recommended for evenings and weekends, this will be a first come first served with queueing if necessary.

If you (or any of your guests) have any symptoms which could be related to coronavirus ahead of your visit, you must stay at home and follow the government guidance.

We also ask you to make sure you follow the government guidance on meeting people outside your household – no more than two households can dine together.

On entrance we have a track & trace system which by law needs to be filled out, if you refuse we will unfortunately have to refuse entry into our establishment. Along with this you will need a mask, your mask MUST be worn when moving around our establishment, when seated it can be removed.

We will not be accepting cash as payment, we are strictly card only to minimise as much contact as possible.

Please arrive on time for your reservation, and let us know in good time if you are unable to make it. We can only hold tables for 15 minutes.

If you have any concerns, worries or do come down with any symptoms after your visit please get in touch on email at admin@thepigandtail.co.uk

Sincerely The Pig & Tail team
